

Contributors / Collaborateurs

Zelda Abramson is an Associate Professor of Sociology at Acadia University in Wolfville Nova Scotia. Her areas of research and teaching include gender, methodology, health and families. She grew up in Montreal and both her parents were holocaust survivors.

Ava Block Super has worked for the Jewish Heritage Centre of Western Canada since 2008. She has always been involved with the Jewish Community in Winnipeg and thus has a first hand knowledge of its people and its history. It may be a small community but it has left a rich legacy in every aspect of life! Ava feels privileged to be able to serve her community in this capacity and is grateful to work with stellar colleagues.

Katherine Biggs-Craft has been the curator of the Saint John Jewish Historical Museum since 1998. She holds degrees in History from the University of New Brunswick.

Monda Halpern is an Associate Professor in the Department of History at Western University. She teaches courses in nineteenth and twentieth-century North American women's history and Jewish history. Monda is the author of And On That Farm He Had a Wife: Ontario Farm Women and Feminism, 1900-1970 (McGill-Queen's University Press, 2001), and Alice in Shandehland: Scandal and Scorn in the Edelson/Horwitz Murder Case (McGill-Queen's University Press, 2015) about a 1931 murder case in the Ottawa Jewish community.

Lilloet Nordlinger McDonnell is an independent scholar and historian specializing in Jewish integration, assimilation, and fringe Jewish communities.

Agnes Romer Segal holds M.A. degrees in Library Science and in Yiddish literature from the Hebrew University in Jerusalem. She has been with the Jewish Historical Society of Southern Alberta since its founding in 1990.

Debby Shoctor is CEO of the Jewish Federation of Edmonton. She served as the Archivist for the Jewish Archives and Historical Society of Edmonton and Northern Alberta (2001). She came to Edmonton in 1987 to serve as Western Regional Director for B'nai Brith Canada after working in publishing for the Ontario Government and Prentice-Hall Canada. In 2004, she joined the Board of the Archives Society of Alberta before becoming President in 2009. She holds a BA in English and Psychology (University of Toronto 1985), a graduate degree in Journalism at (Dalhousie University 1986) and a MA in Library and Information Studies (University of Alberta 1992).

Peter J. Usher, Ph.D. is a retired geographer residing in Clayton, Ontario. He has a particular interest in the experience of Canadian Jews in the military, and continues his research and writing on this topic.